

Forum: Announcements

Topic: Intrepid Fringe produces William Shakespeares Julius Caesar

Subject: Intrepid Fringe produces William Shakespeares Julius Caesar

Posted by: IntrepidFringe

Posted on: 2015/12/15 12:39:56

THE FUTURE IS NOW!

Intrepid Fringe returns to the stage with its timely production of Shakespeare's Tragedy of Julius Caesar.

In year 4000 of the Common Era, in a galaxy far away, cityship Roma orbits the planet Europa, where Julius Caesar returns in triumph to accept the crown, but will she succeed?

Women command the leading roles while males portray the spouses, servants, soldiers and such in this interactive presentation of Shakespeare's ultimate power struggle. Imagine Star Wars meets Steam Punk, with costumes and soundtrack rocking at hyper-speed.

With emphasis on connecting to its audiences and making them complicit in the story, Intrepid Fringe builds upon its previous successes with Macbeth and King Lear. Directed by hal evans.

10 Performances commencing 7p Jan 20-Feb 6 2016, in the Makeshift Theatre at UF of Houston
1504 Wirt Road, Houston, TX 77055

$17-$35, group of 30+ contact Tracy 830-370-5907

THE FUTURE IS NOW!